

1 Corinthians 4

1 Let a man so consider us, as servants of _____ and _____ of the mysteries of God. 2 Moreover it is _____ in stewards that one be found _____. 3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you or by a _____. In fact, I do not even judge _____. 4 For I know of _____ against myself, yet I am not _____ by this; but He who judges me is the _____. 5 Therefore judge nothing before the _____, until the Lord comes, who will both bring to light the _____ of _____ and reveal the _____ of the _____. Then each one's praise will come from _____.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have figuratively transferred to _____ and _____ for your sakes, that you may learn in us not to think beyond what is written, that none of you may be _____ on behalf of one against the other. 7 For who makes you differ from another? And what do you have that you did not receive? Now if you did indeed receive it, why do you boast as if you had not received it?

8 You are already _____! You are already _____! You have reigned as _____ without us—and indeed I could wish you did _____, that we also might _____ with you! 9 For I think that God has displayed us, the apostles, last, as men _____ to death; for we have been made a _____ to the world, both to _____ and to _____. 10 We are _____ for Christ's sake, but you are _____ in Christ! We are _____, but you are _____! You are _____, but we are dishonored! 11 To the present hour we both hunger and thirst, and we are poorly clothed, and _____, and _____. 12 And we labor, working with our own hands. Being reviled, we _____; being _____, we endure; 13 being defamed, we _____. We have been made as the _____ of the world, the offscouring of _____ until now.

14 I do not write these things to _____ you, but as my beloved children I _____ you. 15 For though you might have _____ instructors in Christ, yet you do not have many _____; for in Christ Jesus I have _____ you through the gospel. 16 Therefore I urge you, _____ me. 17 For this reason I have sent _____ to you, who is my _____ and _____ in the Lord, who will remind you of my ways in Christ, as I teach everywhere in _____.

18 Now some are _____, as though I were not coming to you. 19 But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord wills, and I will know, not the word of those who are puffed up, but the _____. 20 For the kingdom of God is not in _____ but in _____. 21 What do you want? Shall I come to you with a _____, or in _____ and a _____ of _____?
